last night with a delicious serenade. Thanks,

A FLIGHT NORTHWARD. A Negro in a Bad Box.

The Chief of Police on Saturday received a dispatch from Newton McClure, of Nashville, Tenn., stating that his slave Alex, had absconded, and was probably on the evening train of cars. Search was made for the fugitive, but he was not found, and hence it was concluded that he didn't come on that train-but he did.

Yesterday morning the darkey arrived at the Louisville jail in custody of an officer from Seyour, Ind., where he was literally "caught in a bad box." Alex. says he met a white man in Nashville, Monday last, who proposed to assist him to escape into a free State. The slave acceded, and on Saturday the white man nailed him up in an ordinary sized dry goods box and had it shipped, per express, to "Mr. Johnson, Cincinnati, Ohio." It was put through to this city in nine hours, and immediately taken over to the cars at Jeffersonville with other packages in charge of the usual messenger. At Seymour the box was deposited on the platform at the depot for reshipment to Cincinnati. It was stand-ing on end, when a man threw it over for the purose of laying down on it. The concussio oursted off a plank, and some sharp-eyed individual detected the white of the negro's eyes, which expanded to the size of a common platealmost. He was hauled out from his place of concealment amidst the laughter and jeers of the crowd which assembled, returned to this city, and is now in jail.

Alexander says he had a very bad time of it, and that it was a mighty rough way to travel.— Sometimes he was on his heels, and part of the time of the transithe was standing on his head. He was badly cramped, and was without food or water for 14 hours; the scoundrel who assisted him in his flight, he says, was on the train, which may or may not be, for the slave is, evidently, from the cut of his gib, a great rascal; doubtless a big liar. We think it highly probable, from the pre-varieation of the slave, that the Nashvillians have now an Abolitionist "among them."

ANOTHER ONE OF THE FAMILY.-Another of the younger family from Bullitt, was committed o jail yesterday. In company with a couple of egroes he entered the store of a Market street clothing merchant, and while he was engaged in conversation with the proprietor, one of his sable companions stole a pair of pants and sloped. The young man may not have had anything to do with it, but policeman Cave thought it was well to have his credit investigated. The negro thief was subsequently arrested. THEATER .- Mr. and Miss Richings drew a fair

Saturday night house, with the Muleteer of Toledo and the Spirit of the Rhine. As usual, the singing of Miss Richings was received with immense applause. A beautiful little Tyrolean ballad, from one of Donizetti's operas was encored. The Marsellaise met with the same reception. To-night the modern American comedy of Extremes will be performed, a play which has met with universal success wherever enacted .-It is a capital satire upon the follies and foibles of the day. Miss Richings plays the character of Dashing Widow Crosby, introducing Bishop's mocking bird "Aria," La Manola, and a variety of other pleasing airs. Mr. Peter Richings sustains the character of Mark Mayberry, the merchant-and gallant and confirmed bachelor. The parts are really all what are called "character parts," and the piece is cast with remarkable strength. We are pleased to learn that Mr. John T. Lorton, the worthy manager and actor, unapproached in certain excellencies of the drama, will make his first appearance to-night after his long and serious illness. He plays Ebenezer Oldrich, the Philanthropist. We have the majority; but many thought that Mr. Ellis deserved the position as he had gallantly led the forlorn hope in a previous contest. Mr. Dent's generous withdrawal from the race re-lieved the Convention of all troubles, and when the Convention adjourned, the best feeling pre-

is a lifelong Democrat. He made a good fight two years ago against Capt. Megowan—perhaps the most popular man in the Opposition ranks; and with the right effort of his party, he can be

RAILROAD .- On and after Tuesday, April 17, 1860, trains will run as follows:

Trains will arrive at Jeffersonville at 12:30, A. M., 12:30, P. M., and 8:30, P. M.

day morning, April 17th, at 10 o'clock, Mr. D. Heaton sells at auction all the liquors saved from the late fire on Main street, near Third, on account of underwriters, at the wholesale drug store of Sutcliffe & Preuss. It is seldom such a chance as this is offered. These liquors consist of 65 barrels of four year old copper distilled whisky, very fine; 26 eighth and quarter casks of brandy and wines, very high cost, such as are kept in drug stores for medical purposes. It will be sold on four months' credit. Speculators and dealers had better be on their watch for bargains.

The Billiard match contemplated between Mr. Phelan and the French champion, Berger, seems likely to be frustrated by an irrepressible vanity on the part of the latter. He desires the public of America to understand that he is not a vulgar "billiard player," but "an artiste—a man of the world—a man sought after in all our salloons, and one who receives, as pupils, the most distinguished of the nobility and gentry of the entire globe." Berger has never been beaten at the Carom game-three balls-the only one he plays. His terms to come to this country are 15,000 francs for five exhibitions.

THE CARSTANG-SHAW CASE ENDED .- The great breach of promise case at St. Louis is at an end. The argument on a motion for a new trial was to have been heard on Friday, but the plaintiff's counsel did not appear. Thus ends a farce which nce seemed rather a serious matter for Mr. Henry Shaw, millionaire, &c. We have taken an opportunity to examine

LETTER FROM THE POLICE COM-MISSIONERS.

The refusal of Mayor Crawford to recognize the law of the State in regard to Police offairs of this city has opened a sharp correspondence be-tween that functionary and the Commissioners. The latter yesterday sent the following communication to his Honor:

Hon. T. H. Crawpord—Mayor of Louisville:—
Sir: Your communication of the 13th inst. in answer to ours of the 12th, and sent in to the Council with a message, was received by one of us last night, and we regret the conclusion to which you have come, and continue to hold.

We regret it on account of the city at large. From the best information we possess, it has for many years been deemed necessary to have on duty not less than sixteen supernumerary watchmen. Your course deprives the city after tomorrow of the protection the services of such a number of officers would give, as we have no power, under the law, to appoint supernumeraries, but only to confirm or reject your nominations. It had been hoped that the city could have, and certainly at this juncture it is perflous for her not to have, the services of such men as J. A. Weatherford, James O. Bryan, Carter Tiller, Thomas Forman, J. S. Gallagher, D. T. Bligh, C. McKinney, M. Fleming, Joseph Baird, Thos. Antle, John McClelland, Theodore Willie, Alfred Neady, Barton Welton, and others of a like character, in sufficient number to meet all the requirements of public duty.

We regret it on account of some worthy and of office; on account of others who ought to be put in office, and on account of those duly elected and fully entitled to their places, upon whom heavy expense may be entailed to obtain what is strictly and properly their due.

We regret it on our own account, as it will render our duties more arduous and responsible. Nevertheless, we will go on to perform our whole duty, without the slightest regard to the obstacles you have thrown, or may hereafter throw, in our way.

The announcement that the Chancellor has, in a deliberate opinion, pronounced the Police bill to be unconstitutional and void, is received with proper deflerence. As no such opinion is to be found in the records of the Chancery Court, we suppose you allude to a communication from the Chancelior published in the Louisville Daily Journal of the 12th ult. Any opinion of the Chancellor on a constitutional question, whether officially formed after argument by counsel or privately on his unaided reflections, is entitled to careful consideration. But his individual opinion, such as the communication alluded to, is entitled to no more weight than that of other professional gentlemen of equal standing. An opinion opposite to that of the Chancelior is entertained by professional gentlemen of equal standing with his Honor, both in and out of the Legislature.

Our able and worthy Governor will, doubtless, deeply deplore that your modesty prevented you from giving him a disquisition on our Democracy in time to avail himself of your profound and tasteful suggestions.

in time to avail himself of your profound and tasteful suggestions.

You say that the plain intention and only conceivable motive of the Police bill was to give the control of the Police to the Democratic party; and that our appointment as members of the Police Board will defeat the Legislature's intention. We thank you for so candid an avowal, that our appointment has not given and cannot give the control of the Police to the Democratic party. We had hoped to prove in time by our actions that polities had nothing to do with the discharge of our official duties, but we had not expected so soon to impress such a conviction so deeply upon your mind, that you would feel called upon to give it public and official expression. And if the failure to have Democratic control over the police should fail to advance the interests of the Democratic party, as from your language suggestively follows, we can congratulate the Democracy on the fact, that you are doing far more for their cause than we could ever hope to accomplish.

ing far more for their cause than we could ever hope to accomplish.

Hoping that better counsel may yet prevail with you, and that you may see how injurious your course is likely to prove to the city and to individuals, we again annonnee to you our ready-Individuals, we again annonnee to you our reacyness to act at any time upon any nominations of supernumerary watchmen you may see fit to make.

Very respectfully,
PHILIP SPEED,

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

The proceedings of the Sheriff Convention in another column will inform the reader that manther column will inform the reader that party for Sheriff of Jefferson county. Considerable feeling was exhibited by the friends of candidates, but complete harmony was restored by Mr. Henry Dent not only withdrawing his name, but proposing that his opponent, Mr. Ellis, recieive the nomination by a unanimous vote. This was accepted with great applause, and Mr. Ellis, recieive the nomination by a unanimous vote. This was declared the candidate of the Convention without a dissenting voice.

The friends of Mr. Dent were undoubtedly in the majority; but many thought that Mr. Ellis to having guaranteed to lessee the first right to make the conduct of Preston street Market master, in leasing new stalls not yet built, in said market. I do hope the committee will do their duty and sift the matter to the bottom.

I am informed by good authority that he market master, in leasing new stalls not yet built, in said market. I do hope the committee will do their duty and sift the matter to the bottom.

I am informed by good authority that he matter that the market master as and a certain ex-official, have already, or are to receive soon, quite a considerable sum of money for their services in leasing out the stalls at their market value as soon as finished; being creditably informed that said speculators have already offered them for sale, are built, so as to enable them to sell said stalls at their market value as soon as finished; being creditably informed that the market master, in leasing new stalls not yet built, in said market. I do hope the committee will do their duty and sift the matter to the bottom.

I am informed by good authority th the to the lessees as same as other property, cus-tom having guaranteed to lessee the first right to release his stall when his lease expires; butch-ers and gardeners consider Preston street mar-ket one of the best in the city for selling their beef and vegetables; consequently, stalls in that market are worth from eight to ten hundred dol-lars each; they have sold for that in the last few beef and vegetables; consequently, stalls in that market are worth from eight to ten hundred dollars each; they have sold for that in the last few months. The addition of 24 stalls to said market is not building a new one; where stalls have no value, (as in Portland market) until custom is drawn to market, or the population is sufficient to support butchers and gardeners, but they are already made valuable by the exertions of the present occupants of the stalls, in old part of market; it is, therefore, no more than right that the stalls in new addition should be put up at auction, as proposed by an ordinance introduced in Board of Aldermen by Mr. Gunkle, Alderman from the First ward.

I would now ask, Messrs. Editors, what right the Market Master, or any other city official, has to give away property of the city's, worth at least eight thousand dollars, to twelve or twenty-four men to the exclusion of perhaps a hundred applicants, equally as competent and capable to perform all the city requires, besides paying a bonus of perhaps from five to eight hundred dollars for the lease. Does the amount of taxes levied yearly warrant us in believing that the city is able to give away ten thousand dollars!—Can we draw such a conclusion from the way the city pays her policemen, sometimes making them wait four months for their pay, or have those favored few a claim upon the city that they should be rewarded with a thousand dollar stall a-piece? It is clearly a high-handed outrage, and I trust the Committee will spare no pains to investigate the matter thoroughly and bring to light the corrupted and bribed parties so that the taxpaying community may know how the public treasury is occasionally robbed.

NUMBER 81. Democratic National Conventions, Since 1844.

We give below the ballotings for the Presidency in every Democratic Convention since Convention in 1844 were as follows:

6 1 2 1 1 1 The ninth ballot was unanimous for James K. Polk, of Tennessee, a new candidate, taken up at the eleventh hour.

The Convention of 1848 proceeded to ballot for President, with the following results:

It will be seen that Mr. Cass had a majority on the fourth ballot, and he was accordingly nominated by acclamation.

There were forty-nine ballotings in the Convention of 1852, all of which it is unnecessary to give. A few will be sufficient to indicate the leanings of the Convention towards particular

On the seventeenth ballot Mr. Buchanan was animously nominated. The two-thirds rule was uniformly adopted by hese Conventions, Kentucky voting for it unaniously on every ballot. An attempt may be adde to set it aside on this occasion, to promote he nomination of Douglas.

ANOTHER "SHORT COUNT."—The messenger of the Merchants' Bank, on Tuesday last presented sight checks on the State Bank of Missuori, amounting in all to over $19,000, but the memoramdum book of the former called for one thousand dollars less, which the messenger of the Merchants' Bank states was all he received, while the teller of the State Bank is positive he paid the full amount of what the checks called for, and that his cash on that day balanced as usual. It appears that one of the checks was for $4,000, which the clerk of the Merchants' Bank entered in his memorandum book as $3,000, thereby making a discrepancy between the checks and the amount on the book, of $1,000. There is at present no prospect of a settlement between the banks, and the presumption is that the matter will come up before the courts fer adjudication.—St. Louis Bulletin.

Febone had been in the employ of Ferrera about four weeks, and during that time had succeeded in winning the affections of his wife. The couple left with $300 in gold, belonging to Ferrera, and were absent some hours before they were missed. When the unfortunate Spaniard found that he had lost his wife, money, and runner at a single blow, he rushed in haste to the police for redress, and an officer, after diligent search, found the parties living together as man and wife, waiting for an opportunity to leave the country.

The Florence correspondent of the Newark Advertiser mentions that the wife and children of Dr. Achilli, an apostate from the Roman Church, who has conciliated Protestant feeling both in England and the United States, are in a perfectly destitute condition, living on the alms of our countrymen. He shipped them at New York last year, under a specious pretext, with the promise to supply their wants monthly, by bills of exchange; since which the only intelligence they have had of him was through the newspaper report of his having another woman and child in an institution in New Jersey.—Measures have been taken to call him to account.

to be hoped, he will not again be hunted by the prying, cager eyes of those who, at times, instead of being the promoters of good old English sports, are the source from which all impediments arise. Last night the quiet house of that good old veteran and supporter of the English P. R., Owen Swift's, the Horse Shoe Tavern, Tichbourne street, Haymarket, was hierally beseiged by the backers of Sayers and Heenan.—Amongst those present, we noticed Mr. Dowling, Mr. Falkland, Gideon, Newbold, Cooper, the well known Phil. We can also state that a very large number of the Upper Ten Thousand vere present on this eventful occasion.

Mr. Dowling, the stakeholder, at 10½ o'clock entered the room and said that he had great pleasure in announcing that the final deposit had been made, and he was also happy to state that he had reason to believe that the long-looked-for encounter would take place on the day originally named, and arrangements had been made that day (Friday) to enable all who were anxious to witness this great international match, to do so. The price of the tickets was fixed £3. He coud not, of course, form any opinion what this American could do in the ring, but John Morrissey had seen the champion (Sayers) at Newmarket, and gave it as his opinion that Sayers would be able to beat Heenan, and that easily. If Morrissey was not able to form a correct opinion of Heenan, he was not. He said, also, that Heenan was not much of a man; but it was to be borne in mind that he might have greatly improved since he met him (John Morrissey) in the American friends with the greatest cordiality. A case of seduction in Greton, Tompkins county, which has just come to light, is the subject of a great deal of anxiety among the friends of the party and indignation among the community. The facts of the case are as near as we can gather them as follows: Something more than a year ago a merchant of that town, whose previous intrigues with the fair sex had rendered him obnoxious to a large portion of the community, made a public profession of religion and joined the Methodist Church, and succeeded in making people believe that he really meant to lead a better life. Yesterday at 9 A. M., we had a smart ball storm for a few minutes, the hall-stones being of the size of large peas. At about 10 o'clock, similar stones, collected into masses of the size of hick-ory-nuts, commenced falling, rapidly increasing in number and size until there was a dense shower of them. Thousands of them were as large as hen's eggs, but so loosely connected that they flattened like snow-balls on striking a roof or the hard ground. They came with great force, but so nearly perpendicular that little damage was done. Plenty of these balls could be picked up after the shower three inches in diameter, and three-fourths of an inch thick, and containing perhaps a hundred hailstones.

In the present excited state of public feeling, when the conduct of the Madison county committee has been justified by the indiscretions of on, Fee, Clay, and their associates, we expected from some of the very few engaged in this movement here more discretion, more wisdom, and more patriotism. Conceding for the nonce, that they are sincere, honest, well meaning, they lack the numbers to give responsibility to their action, they can add nothing to the strength of the party abroad, they can accomplish no good end, while they may excite bad blood and bring about unpleasant results. They suffered their zeal to get the better of their judgement, and run the risk of the consequences to gratify the vanity of seeing their names in print; and thus, at most they may secure a short lived notoriety, of which, when they have passed down the hill of life, they cannot be proud, and which their descendants, enlightened and intelligent reading the history of the present times, by the light of experience, will blush to remember.

Mayor Crawford informs the world that Chancellor Logan's letter to the Louisville Journal is a judicial decision of high authority. By the same token, all of the Honorable Mr. Logan's opinions on the Pope's taking possession of this country (Pond Settlements included), are decisions binding the consciences of all officials. In Texas, occasionally, the judge anes that "This Court will adjourn for a drunk." In such a case the opinion of the judge on the liquor imbibed would have to be regarded as an able exposition of the law until a judge of the Court of Appeals reverses it.

Mayor Crawford's letter asserts that a let ter to a party newspaper is a judicial decision, to which all Mayors, &c., should submit, but at the same time, though a ministerial officer him self, he repudiates an explicit act of the Legislature, and sets at defiance and nullifies the law of the land, and leaves this city without a sufficient police force. His biographers will doubtless claim for him that he beat Gen. Jackson in Proclamation of Victor Emanuel.

The following is the text of the King of Sarnia's proclamation to the people of Central Italy, imperfectly given by telegraph:

PEOPLE OF CENTRAL ITALY!—Your wishes are fulfilled; you are now united with my other subjects in a single monarch; your concord and perseverance have deserved this reward. It is a great blessing to the country and to civilization. But, in order that its best fruits may be gathered, you must still persevere in those virtues of which you have given so admirable an example; and above all, you must be firmly resolved to make sacrifices, without which great enterprises can neither be well accomplished nor well consolidated. I place in you that faith which you not in vain reposed in me. The compact which binds us indissolubly together is one of honor towards our country and universal civilization. I never had any other ambition save that of risking my life for the independence of Italy, and of setting nations an example of that uprightness by which public morality is strengthened, and the foundations of States are firmly established on liberty; and now it is my ambition to do for myself and my family, from the nations recently united, that devoted affection for which the subalpine people are celebrated; I am ambitions to strengthen the Italians in the unanimity of those sentiments by which nations are tempered so as to bear woe, and prepare for good fortune.

WASHINGTON, April 2d, 1860.

Editor Louisville, Course, Although, the Editor Louisville Courier: - Although the Charleston Convention will assemble in two weeks from to-day, there is still a comparative calm here in political circles. The friends of the various Presidential aspirants are apparently resting on their oars," awaiting with no little xiety the action of the National Convention, although delegates have been appointed from every State in the Union, yet there seems to be to means of ascertaining correctly their preference. For example, the delegations from the large and important States of New York and Pennsylvania, are regarded as extremely uncertain, and are claimed alike by the friends and opponents f Mr. Douglas. Mr. Montgomery, delegate com Pennsylvania for the State at large, asserted recently in a speech in the House, that the egation from Pennsylvania was for Dougias; these delegates have assured me that the delega ion was against him by a large majority. So it is with the New York delegation, and we cannot know certainly how the vote of these two great ates will be cast, until after the ballotings have been concluded at Charleston. This uncertain y in regard to the status of delegates, renders it extremely difficult to make any reliable calcula-tions, or to arrive at any correct and definite onclusion. During the present week our city will doubtless be crowded by delegates and out siders en route for Charleston, when the representatives of the great National Democratic party will assemble to nominate the next President of the United States. There is observable here, and it is certainly highly gratifying, very little animosity between the friends of the different candidates. The friends of each are endevaoring past animosities and difference seem to be for gotten by all, in their eagerness to obtain votes for their respective favorites. This universal concord is alone marred by the continued hos-tility between the administration and Douglas wings of the party, each waging against the other to conciliate the friends of their antagonists a war of extermination, with what success, the result of the Charleston Convention can alone determine. The Douglas men, whilst very deided in the advocacy of his claims, have partially ceased their game of brag, though for the past few days they appear greatly elated over the accesion of Dimmick, delegate fromPennsylva-nia, who has heretofore been regarded as a firm supporter of the National Administration. The friends of Mr. Douglas, however, are evidently preparing for his approaching defeat and are beginning to reconcile themselves to that inevitable event. They would wilingly postpone his nomination until 1864; but claim that he has been postponed too long already, and that a further postponement will be his political death. But his friends should bear in mind that the course of Mr. Douglas during the past three years has alienated from him large mbers of the best and truest Democrats in the nation; that he has been prominently identified with issues upon which there is an irreconcile-able difference of opinion in our party, and that is nomination would justly give offense to those who oppose his views on the Territorial oolicy of our Government. Whilst the nomination of Douglas would be unwise, for the reason sI ave indicated, the nomination of any one promiently identified in the crusade against him, would also be manifestly impolitic. The only way in which we can achieve success is to nom nate at Charleston, a statesman of acknowledged ability-and of unquestioned Democracy, who, whilst decided in his views on all questions affecting the rights of the Southern States, who as fortunately not been mixed up in the recent struggles, which has so unhappily divided our party. The nomination of any man identified with the Lecompton or anti-Lecompton controversy, will serve only to perpetuate discord in our ranks, and probably insure the defeat of our candidate. The friends of Douglas recognise the necessity of the united action of the Democracy to insure success, and hence will not, I am inormed, oppose the readoption of the two-thirds rule. They appear to be confident if they can give Douglas a majority vote on any ballot, that mongh votes can then be gotten to swell up his rote to two-thirds. Thirty votes are claimed for him in the South, which I regard as far above the mark; but even this number will not secure him the nomination. There will be against him, in my opinion, from the North, not less than eventy-five votes-enough to secure, beyond a loubt, his defeat. The only question in regard to the Douglas vote, is as to whom it will be given after he has withdrawn from the contest. The friends of Gen. Lane think that Douglas out of the way, the vote of the entire Northwest will be concentrated upon him, which, with the vote of several Southern States, will render him a most formidable candidate. Others seem to regard it as understood that the Douglas vote will e transferred to Stephens, of Georgia, whilst

A WORD TO THE WISE.—The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest, and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr O'Hare. To the country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale departmen while in the retail line he cannot be equalled Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small car pet bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than the great Western factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. As a matter of home pride, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interest in purchasing of Mr. D. O'Hare. Re-member, that the United States Prize Medal was

The Widow and the Parson.

In a Latin sermon on widowhood by Jean Raulin, a monk of Cluny of the 15th century, there is a story which Rabelains has told again in his own way. Rawlin's version is this:
"A widow consulted her parish priest about her entering into a second marriage. She told him she stood in need of a helpmate and protector, and that her journeyman, for whom she had taken a funcy, was industrious and well acquainted with her late husband's trade. 'Very well,' said the priest, 'you had better marry him,' and yet,' rejoined the widow, 'I am afraid to do it, for who knows but I may find my servant become my master?' 'Well, then,' said the priest, 'don't have him.' 'But what shall I do?' said the widow; 'the business left to me by my poor dear departed husband is more than I can manage by myself.' 'Marry him, then,' said the priest. 'Ah, but suppose he turns out a scamp?' said the widow, 'he may get hold of my property, and run through it all.' 'Don't have him,' said the priest.' Thus the dialogue went on, the priest always agreeing in the last opinion expressed by the widow, until at length, seeing that her mind was actually made up to marry the journeyman, he told her to consult the church bells, and they would advise her best what to do. The bells were rung, and the widow heard them distinctly say. 'Do take vour man,' do take your man.' CRYSTAL PALACE, LUPE & EVANS, Proprietors,

BY PHŒBE CARY. You look to the future, on above, I only look to the past; You are dreaming your first dream of love, And I have dreamed my last.

You watch for feet that are yet to tread With yours on a shining track; I hear but the echoes, dull and dread, Of feet that come not back.

You are reaching forth with a spirit glad, To the hopes that are still untried; I am burying the hopes I had, That have slipped from my arms and died.

And I pray that the blessedest things there be On thy future may descend; But, alas, for mine! it were well for me, If I made a peaceful end!

"Said a venerable farmer, some eighty years old, to a relative who had lately visited him, 'I have lived on this farm half a century. I have no desire to change my residence as long as I live on earth. I have no desire to be any richer than I now am. I have worshiped the God of my fathers with the same people for more than forty years. During this time I have rarely been absent from the sanctuary on the Sabbath, and have never lost one communion season. I have never been confined to my bed by sickness for a single day. The blessings of God have been richly spread around me, and I made up my mind long ago, that if I wished to be happier, I must have more religion."

A Wedding Ceremony Suddenly Stopped.

[From the Toronto Leader.]

We have for some few days been aware of a romantic though rather unpleasant circumstance which lately occurred at Fort Hope, and in which a lady and gentleman, who were to become one at the altar, were arrested when the knot was partially ited, and separated from each other by the lady's mother, who is a widow.

The lovers had, it appears, been engaged for two or three months with the full confidence of the lady's guardian and most of the leading members of the family, when her half brother, from motives unexplained, set his face against the match, informing the widow that unless she withdrew her sanction he would assume unfriendly relations towards her. This had the desired effect. The gentleman was apprised of the particulars of the case, and generously promised not to take any action in the premises that would endanger the happiness or pecuniary interests of his intended mother-in-law. Believing, consequently, that a clandestine marriage would exonerate her from all complicity, he procured the aid of a friend, got the license privately, and unknown to all but the necessary witnesses, &c., on Saturday night week led the young bride to the altar, a clergyman of the Church of England officiating upon the occasion.

The ceremony commenced. Solemn words had been spoken, and the plighted troth all but exchanged, when the door of the apartment was thrown open, and to the utter consternation of the contracting parties and others, the widowed lady already named, with auother person who had led her to the spot, rushed into the midst of the group. In an instant all was confusion. The minister was obliged to close his book and discontinue the service; and the lady was constrained to accompany her mother, and leave the bridegroom in no enviable position. Before making her exit, however, she assured all present that she should marry the man of her choice, and that the interruption which had taken place was effective for the moment only. On the Frankfort Turnpike, one mile from Louisville.

ELLWANGER & FOX would respectfully inform the citizens of Louisville and vicinity, that they have a great variety of Perpetual, Bourbon, Tea, Noisette or Climbing, and Moss Roses, mostly recently imported, on hand and for sale. They have also a fine assortment of Verbenas, Dahlius and Flox, which never have been raised in the South before, which they offer very cheap.

BRANDRETH'S PHLS VS. SARSAPARILLA.
One Twenty-five Cent Box of Brandreth's Pilis is warranted to contain more pure Sarsaparilla than any dollar bottle of Sarsaparilla. All who are using Sarsaparilla, let them substitute Brandreth's Pills, and take one each night.
The effect will be found superior to the bottled article. A box of the Life Addition Phils are warranted equal to two dollar bottles of Sarsaparilla. Try one of these Pills, whose main active ingredient is alkaloid of Sarsaparilla or any other tonic remedies. Drop all these for thirty days and use these pills in the place thereof for that time. The cost will be fifty cents, and their worth a thousand dollars.

Evil Habits in Youth, Barrenness, &c.

We boldly assert that JOHN BULL'S FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA is the only preparation before the public that is prepared on strictly scientific principles and of uniform strength. The Sarsaparilla is purchased without regard to price; every pound, before being used, is subjected to the strictest chemical tests, and its genuineness ascertained before being used.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA also contains the virtues of several other Medical Roots, together forming the best Compound and producing the greatest Curative Agent known to the world.

There is not the least dimenty in getting children to take the medicine. It is prepared in the form of Candy Propa, and will be eaten with a widity by children of all ages. It destroys and expels Worms more effectually than any remedy now in use, while at the same time it will in no way affect injuriously the health of the child. DR. JOHN BULL'S the emeute between Pryor and Potter: Mr. Pryor, of Virginia (Dem.),—I rise to uestion of privilege. By referring to the Glob of this morning, I find the following report aderting to the scene which occurred here some as since.

days since:

"Mr. Pryor advancing from the Democratic side of the House to the area where Mr. Love loy stood. The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Lovejoy) shall not approach this side of the House shaking his fists and talking in the way he has talked. It is bad enough to be combled to sit here and hear him utter his treasonable and insulting language; but he shall not, ir, come upon this side of the House shaking is fists in our faces.

Mr. Potter—We listened to gentlemen on the Mr. Potter—We listened to gentlemen on the ner side for eight weeks when they denounced members upon this side with violent d offensive language. We listened to them tetly, and heard them through; and now, sir is side will be heard, let the consequences be at they may.

fr. Pryor—This is the point I make. Let the

Mr. Pryor—This is the point I make. Let the gentleman speak from his seat, and say all under the rules he is entitled to say; but, Sir, he should not come upon this side, shaking his fists n our faces, and talking in the style he has talked. He shall not come here gesticulating in a menaing and ruffianly manner.

Mr. Potter—You are doing the same thing."
Mr. Pryor—It is due to myself to say that, upon he occasion here described, I did not recognize he presence of the member from Wisconsin.

the presence of the member from Wisconsin, nor did I hear any word from his lips, nor am I singular or peculiar in that lack of recognition of his presence, for by referring to the New York journals, and those of Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other places, all of which publish seperate and distinct accounts of the affair, not a word appears in any of them of his presence, or of any word said by him. However, I find this in the Globe; and I presume that I must allow that he did appear, and did speak on that occasion. In order to ascertain, however, what he he did say, I have had recourse to the manuscript of the ed the record touching our proceedings here and affecting the record in a most material point and anecting the record in a most material point. Here Mr. Pryor pointed out the correction made by Mr. Potter, and which appeared in his own hand writing.] To his remark, "and now, Sir, this side shall be heard," he had added, "let the consequences be what they may." After a remark by Mr. Pryor, that Mr. Lovejoy should not called a big first in their faces he had been transfer or the state of the state o this side shall be heard," he had added, "let the consequences be what they may." After a remark by Mr. Pryor, that Mr. Lovejoy should not shake his fist in their faces, he had interjected, as for himself, "You are doing the same thing now." Again, he added to his (Potter's) remark, that "the Democratic side could not say where a member should speak, and they shall not say." He would now yield for the member to say whether or not he had made these alterations.

Mr. Porter, of Wisconsin, (Rep.)—Mr. Speaker, I am very much surprised that the member from Virginia should say that he did not see me on the occasion alluded to; but, sir, I have no right to say, and shall not say that he did, because I, of course, cannot know it. But I stood, sir, within a few feet of the gentleman, and after he made the remarks which he has just read relative to Mr. Jovejoy, coming down in the area, and gesticulating, and shaking his fists, said, "You are doing the same now;" and I was surprised to find that I was not so reported. I did, therefore, what I suppose every member has a right to do under such circumstances. When I was conscious I had made the remark, and others on this side heard me, I corrected the report in that particular. I claimed and exercised the same right of looking over the reporters' notes, and correcting them that others have done, and I believe the member from Virginia did the same thing; at any rate, the remarks were corrected by some one, judging from the notes I saw. It is perfectly natural to suppose that under such circumstances and during the confusion of so many speaking, the reporters would not hear distinctly every word, but gentlemen on this side heard me make the remarks as reported in the Globe.

Mr. Pryor—I did not know the member, and therefore he might have passed before my face without my noticing him. As to what he says about my correcting the reporters on this side heard me make the remarks as reported in the Globe.

Mr. Pryor—I did not know the member, and therefore he might have passed befo stand further if he intends by that any menace or offense. [Laughter.]

Mr. Potter—Mr. Speaker, what I meant was this: While the member from Virginia was charging Mr. Lovejoy, after he had left his own seat, and came down into the area shaking his fists at Mr. Lovejoy, and was charging him so that it would go to the country with this same offense, if it be an offense, Isaid, what was a very natural remark, "You are doing the same thing." I deprecated the shaking of fists upon one side as much as the other, and I meant what I said, I stand by what I said, and, as I said before, I consider that a member has a right, under such circumstances, to not only correct his remarks, but to insert any remark which he knows to have been left out; and I put it in because I wanted the report to be correct. That was the only motive, and I would ask the member from Virginia now, if he slid not of his own metics. ask the member from Virginia nov it.

Mr. Pryor—One word more and I have done with the subject. The gentleman wants to know by what authority I took the liberty, and he imputes the act to me of erasing any remark he had placed there. Sir, I did take that liberty. I felt myself authorized to erase an unwarranted interjection. He says before he would have done that thing—before he would erase what some-body else had put into the manuscript he would have had his arm cut off, yet he could put in what he did not utter. Sir, the gentleman says he stands by his language. I understand him by that to give me the liberty of construing his remarks as I please.

remarks as I please.

Mr. Potter—I shall stand by my language, sir.

Mr. Pryor—I shall construe his remarks as I please, and whether or not he stands by it the sequel will demonstrate.

Mr. Dawes, of Massachusetts, (Rep.,) desired to say that he heard the member from Wisconsin se the language referred to, as reported in the Bank Robbers at Columbus, Ga.—The Ageney of the Marine Bank at Columbus, Ga. was centered on the might of the 9th inst., and robbed of $45,542 of the notes of various banks in Georgia and Alabama. The box from which the amount was taken contained in all probably $120,000, about two-thirds of which was left. The strangest part of the whole affair is, that the lock of the back door where the thief entered, as well as the locks of the vault door, have received no marks of violence whatever. The back door was discovered early in the morning of the 10th to be open, but as the agent is an early riser and visits the bank at an early hour, no attention was paid to the fact, particularly as the door showed no mark of baving been forced open. The back door was locked Monday night and the key left on the inside. No clue has been found to the perpetrator of the deed. A remarkable fact connected with the affair is, the selection of bills of different banks which are in circulation every day in the city and throughout the country, and which might be used with impunity by the perpetrator of the robbery. This, in connection with the facility with which the doors of the building and bank vault were opened, shows that the robbery was well matured beforchand, and was in contemplation some time before it was consummated.

"RIDING ON A RAIL"—AN INSULT RESENTED. The Knoxville, Tenn., Register states that two nen, named Snow and O'Hara, got into a discussion about something, during which the former seed some expressions deemed offensive by the atter, to which he retorted, using some slander-was words in regard to the ladies of Tennessee. Thereupon Snow slapped him in the face, and Hara returned the blow with a kick. The idea oon spread that O'Hara had indulged in some arsh expressions towards the ladies of Tenneseee, which created great excitement, and mobicolence was threatened. Under the protection of the police officers, he was taken to the Courtouse and confronted with 290 or 390 enraged itizens. The charges were reiterated and O'Hara heard in his defense. The excitement increased, and but for the interposition of the Mayor, he would have been lynched. Against the solern motoest of the Mayor, O'Hara was, however, mounted on a rail, and gode around the square of the Lamar House. From thence, he went to is boarding house, and through the advice of riends left for Concord, to take the night train or the South. Had he remained until night, its sthought, he would have been treated more that portion of the house. Some of those who were beaten are said to be severely injured. The police did not make their appearance until after the fight was over.

The ill-feeling toward Mr. Allen, it appears, was because he had suspended the free list, and as the Bowery Boys heretofore have always had free access to the house, they feel aggrieved, because Mr. Allen has the courage to resist their demands. The affair created a great excitement on the east side of the city, and as the gang known as the Bowery Boys and Dead Rabbits have not had a chance to get up a riot since 1857, it is feared they will embrace the present occasion to take sides in the present difficulty, and serious consequences are apprehended.—X.

THE COAL LOST AT PITTSBURG.-We learn om Mr. Charles Miller, coal dealer, that the losses of oal by the late freshet at Pittsburg amounted to 16 ats, involving a loss of over a half a million bush els of coal. The losses were divided among the fol-lowing parties, each boat containing about 18,000 bushels of coal: Fawcet 2 boats, Riddle Coleman 2, R. & I. Watson 2, Murray & Willett 2, Burns & Scott 2, P. Baker 2, Cory & Co. 1, Jones & Cooly 1, Camp field 1, Hendrickson 1; in all 16 boats.

THE MARY T-, NEW ORLEANS COAST AND LAFOURCHE PACKET.—The Mary T—, the new packet for the New Orleans, coast and Lafourche transportation and passenger trade, is all completed, ready to start South on her first trip. She was built she now rides at the wharf a complete, serviceable staunch, and safe boat in all respects, and as staunch as wood and iron can make her. She will prove un-rivaled in business capacity, as well as outfit and passenger accommodations, also combining an easy model and ample power to make her com-pete with anything in the trade, including the Capitol, or C. D., Jr., while in business capacity she excels them. All the builders and furnishers have taken an especial pride in their several departments, having vied with each other in turning out faultiess work, and Capt. Dalferes with his characteristic generosity, says he has a better boat, and got more work done than he bargained for, or was in his contracts. That speaks well for our mechanics.

The outfit of the Mary T .-- is in perfect unison with all else pertaining to the boat, with nothing ex-travagant, but all selected for use and durability, as well as beauty. The cabins are furnished in as complete order as any boat in the South, with the best carpets, curtains, oil-cloths, linens, &c., including a splendid tapestry carpet for the ladies' department, all got up in the finest style, and furnished by the famous house of Hite & Small, whose invaluable aid is required in fitting out all the fine Southern packets. The furniture all of criminal ne Southern packets. The furniture, all of original patterns, and all made to order, is from the establishment of John Simm; and Henry Wehmhoff, the best upholsterer in the West, was called on to make the mattresses, bedding, &c., all of which is of the best quality. In the furnishing of the pantries, the table ware, China ware, cutlery, chandeliers, &c., our friends Walton & Barret were, called in, and they challenge ware, China ware, cutlery, chandeliers, &c., our friends Walton & Barret were, called in, and they challenge comparison from any boat now running. We have seldom seen anything to surpass the articles supplied by this firm, as everything was condered expressly for the boat, with her CJ McCanlla, Pa Rong, O ordered expressly for the boat, with her name thereon plain to be seen. The silver ware is very heavy and beautiful. The iron safe in the office, which is burglar proof, was also furnished by Walton & Barrett. Her stoves, pipes, copper work, and other outfit entire, were by Wright & Bridgeford.

The hull of the Mary T— was built by the Messrs.

D. & J. Howard, the cabin and joiners' work by H. McClaran & Co., and the engines by Inman, Gault, & Co., all of whom deserve great credit for their skillful workmanship. The hull is 192 feet in length, with 5 feet beam, 30 feet floor, and 18 feet depth of hold, extra froned and fastened, with carrying capacity for fully 1,200 hhds of sugar. The eagines are two cylinders, each 22 inches in diameter, with 8 feet stroke, with 4 boilers, each 40 inches in diameter, and 26 feet in length. She has also a splendid doctor engine, doctor boiler, and freight hoister, all com-plete. The cabin is composed of large, well furnished staterooms, in addition to which is a nursery and servants' rooms. The pantries, wash-rooms, barber shop, &c., are well supplied with cold or hot water, by means of pipes, and the water is readily forced to all parts of the boat, a means of safety as well as cleanliness. The painting of the boat, a very superior job, was under the superintendence of Mr. Spurrier, of this city, and we must say it is as good work as we have soon this cocon.

The Mary T—has been built under the supervision of Capt. C. Daiferes, who is an experienced commander, and a courteous, clever gentleman, and well conversant in all that pertains to the building and management, having built and owned many of the best and most popular boats in the lower trade. He best and most popular boats in the lower trade. He has, however, retired from the river, and built the boat for the company. She is to be commanded by his brother, Capt. Joseph Dalferes, who is universally popular all along the coast. The boat can readily be distinguished by her tall chimneys, but particularly by the life size golden Pellcan surmounting a sugar hogshead on the top of the pilot-house. These are emblems of the State of Louisiana, the former one her coat of arms, and the latter is her chief received. her coat of arms, and the latter is her chief product.

FROM CALIFORFIA.

From New York.

New York, April 14.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says that, in accepting Mr. Pryor's challenge, Mr. Potter wrote to Mr. Lander saying he did not see any ground for a hostile meeting in so trifling a cause; he deprecated dueling, but, as there was an evident purpose to pursue him to that extremity, he accepted, with the bowle knife for the weapon; hence, while condemning the practice of dueling, he felt that there was no alternative but to meet the necessity in the manner proposed. Mr. Lander stated this fact to Messrs. Keitt and Cheeseman when the acceptance was delivered. Mr. Potter also delivered to Col. Lander a private letter which probably had been prepared in expection of such a contingency. He recapitulated the causes of the quarrel, stated that he regarded the cause of free speech as inherent in his person and was determined to vindicate to the last extremity his own personal rights, as well as those of his constituents.

Such is the substance of his note, which may, or may not, be published. He and his friends regarded this whole difficulty as furnishing evidence of the settled purpose either to intimidate him into submission, or compel a resort to exposing life to unequal chances. The refusal of Mr. Pryor to accept Col. Lander's voluntary cantle occasions much comment. He regarded the rejection of Mr. Pryor to accept Col. Lander's voluntary cantle occasions much comment. He regarded the rejection of Mr. Protter's terms, and the language accompanying it, as a reflection upon his principal, and, acting upon this precedent in the Graves and Cilley case, substituted himself.

The Attorney General concurs with the Secretary of the Navy in justifying the capture of the Mexican steamers, and has given an opinion to that effect. They are libelled at New Orleans as prizes, and the question will be judicially determined whether they were pirates or became prizes through an alleged act of war in firing into the Indianola.

The steamer Prince Albert has arrived. Arrival of the Japanese Commission. Sr. Joseph, April 14.—San Francisco, March 31.—The U. S. steamer Powhattan, Capt. Pearson, bearing the flag of officer Tathall, arrived on the 27th from Japan, via Honolula. She brings the Japanese Embassy, consisting of two principal ambassadors, princes of the lighest rank among the nobility of the empire, and two associates, who are nobles of equal rank. These four are of the Emperor's Council. They are accompanied by a suite of sixteen officers. Among them are three interpreters and fifty-two subordinates, making seventy-two in all. They bring one hundred thousand dollars to defray personal expenses, although the Embassy is invited at the sole expense of the United States. They were given the best quarters on board the Powhattan during the voyage, and arrived in good health and highly pleased. The chief dignitaries are magnificently dressed in embroidered silk robes, each wearing a sword of beautiful workmanship. They have conducted themselves with great dignity and propriety. The Powhattan, on the day of her arrival, went to Mare Island Navy Yard, all the embassadors remaining on board. It will take several days to overhaul the vessel and take in coal, when she will sail for Panama. The embassador will thence proceed to Aspin-wall, where the U. S. steamer Roanoke is expected to be in waiting to convey them to Washington. They are so well pleased with the Powhattan that they express a wish to have her detained at Panama to convey them back to Japan on their return from the United States. The news from the Sandwich islands is unimportant. The schooner Emma Roke, of New London, arrived at Honolulu on the 16th.

San Francisco, March 31—3 o'clock P. M.—Arrived—Ship Rover from Japan; she brings 2700 tubs of rape-seed oil, 300 bundles of scaweed, 200 do of cuttle fish, 1300 pieces of plonek, and other Japanese products. The ship Orade, for Hong Kong, takes a large lot of flour, 200,000 feet of lumber, and $550,000 in treasure in gold and silver. The ship Hindostan, from Puget Sound for New York, takes 19,000 hides, 70 bales wool, 60 casks California wine and other domestic products.

The Legislature is occupied considering the San Francisco Bulk Head bill. The contest is exciting, and attention proportionate to the vast interests involved. The State capital seems permanently located at San Francisco, $100,000 having been appropriated for the commencement of a capital building, which is to cost when completed $500,000. The Japanese steam corvette Condinmarrah has been in dry dock at Marc Island navy yard, and put in complete order, free of charge, Commodore Cunningham explaining that while he had no actual authority to render this accommodation, he felt sure he was but carrying out the intentions of his Government in doing for the Japanese steamers all that he could do for an American man-of-war.

The foregoing summary of news was sent by mail via the Butterfield route on the 30th ult. The news that follows was mostly sent by yesterday's overland mail.

San Francisco, April 3—3 P. M.—The Washoe mines excitement still influences the country trade, keeping stock down to a low point, on account of the changes the large emigration that region may work when spring fairly opens.

Rains have fallen within the week which must again obstruct transportation for a few days.

There is but little general news of interest.—The Japanese Ambassadors who visited San Francisco on the 31st ult., have remained the honored guests of the city ever since. Two thousand dollars was appropriated from the city treasury to procure for them suitable enjoyment. All the corporation officers, numbers of the Legislature, and the Governor and citizens generally have paid their respects in person. On the 2d inst., a grand public reception was given to the strangers at the largest hall in the city, where United States officers, civil and military, foreign consuls, and State authorities participated in the reception ceremonies. The attaches of the Powhattan are ordered on board Government.

The news from the Washoe mines is about as heretofore reported, and immigration thither is increasing. The pony express starts from San Francisco at 4 a. m. to-day. At half-past three, eighty letters were received for transmission, which number will be doubled by the time the express reaches Carson Valley.

The steamer Brother Jonathan arrived this increase with Occupants. morning with Oregon dates to the 26th ult. Washington Territory to the 28th, and British Columbia to the 30th. Columbia to the 39th.

The bark Glimpse with a cargo valued at $28,000 was wrecked near Victoria on the 15th March.
The vessel was insured for $16,000, and the car-co for $10,000.

San Juan Island was in joint occupancy by American and British troops. It was estimated that 2000 white men and 2000 Chinamen were engaged mining in Frazer river. Mining ac-counts are encouraging and new diggings have been discovered in various places. The news from Oregon and Washington Terri-counts are encouraging and new diggings have been discovered in various places.

The news from Oregon and Washington Territory is quite unimportant.

Carson City, April 4, 7 P. M.—The excitement in regard to the silver and gold mines in this region is unabasted, hundreds are pouring in from all parts of California. Scarcely a company who are prospecting have failed in striking rich ore where they anticipated to find it. The mineral region extends for a hundred miles in every direction, and rich discoveries have been made over a hundred miles up the Humboldt. The Spanish claims, situated where the mines were first opened, were yielding $20,000 per day. Ground is changing hands at from $20 to 100 per foot. The Meno Lake and Walker river country is rich in minerals, and hundreds are prospecting that region generally with good success. Ore is now being shipped to San Francisco for smelting from five different companies. Other companies are making arrangements to ship their ore as soon as animals can be paocured.

The ore sent yields from two to five thousand dollars per ton. Discoveries of gold bearing quartz are being made every day. Machinery of every description is on its way here for the purpose of crushing smelting.

Town property in different localities ranges high, many fire proof buildings are under construction; the population is increasing very fast, it is thought that in two months the population will be 50,000. Society is very bad. No laws for the collection of debts or the punishment of criminals, Murder and fights are of daily occurrence. Freights from California are very high; 25 to 30 cents per pound. Flour is now selling at $40 per hundred pounds. Lumber is worth $300 per 1000 feet at some places in the mines, and other things are selling in proportion.

The telegraph line is now completed to Miller's station, and an office will be opened at that point during the present week. Miller's is thirty miles east of this city, en route to Salt Lake, and in two weeks the line will be opened at that point d

PLACERVILLE, April 4.—The State telegraph branch line was completed to this city last night. The rush to the Carson Valley mines is still necressing.

Pony Express.

St. Joseph, April 14.—A spirited demonstration was made on last night in honor of the prompt araival of the first Pony Express from San Francisco. The city was liluminated; the military and citizens paraded the streets with bands of music; fireworks were let off and speeches appropriate to the occasion were made. The last 100 miles of the route was made in eight hours, and the Courier states that even better time than this was made on some portions of the road. We are not advised when or where the express which left here on the 3d inst. met the one coming this way.

The next Express will leave here on Friday next at 9 o'clock A. M.

Honorable Acquittal. VINCENNES, April 14.—The examination of James Keynolds, the agent of the Adams Express Company, who was arrested last week on suspicion of being implicated in the recent robbery of their office in this city, was concluded this morning, and resulted in his honorable acquittal. No definite clue to the robbery has yet been discovered.
